

WHAT IS NEXT STEPS IDAHO?

Next Steps Idaho is a free career development website, supported by the Idaho State Board of Education and the Idaho Workforce Development Council. Designed to support Idahoans at different stages of their life, it offers self-assessments; 600+ career cards; in-state program and school directories; and interactive, step-by-step guides for education and funding opportunities.

EMPOWERING IDAHO EDUCATORS

Support your school or districts existing career readiness concepts with:

Interactivity

Interactive quizzes and assessments students can use to pair their skills and interests with possible careers.

Activities

Online career development activities that students can save, print, and share results with teachers.

Browse Careers and On-Demand-Library

Browse careers, resources, and video library that cover hundreds of topics related to career development and education pathways. Students can research occupations that interest them, learning about job responsibilities, salaries, and educational pathways.

Lesson Plans

A curriculum library with more than 30 career development lesson plans and handouts teachers can use in the classroom immediately.

NEXT STEPS IDAHO PORTFOLIOS

New portfolios and educator dashboards allow you to monitor student's progress toward career readiness. No software installation or licensing necessary!
